Safe keeping while keeping you safe

Secure your Storage Space with a Wire Mesh Partition System

Picture yourself walking around your warehouse. Are there items left lying around that could be easily lost or stolen? Are you beginning to worry that your warehouse security might not be up to par? Rest easy - Cogan welded wire mesh partition systems are a cost-effective way of organizing and securing your storage space. Whether you need extra storage space for your warehouse or on your construction site, or you require welded security cages for retail, DEA cages and more, installing a wire mesh partition system protects your property around the clock.

Cogan wire mesh partitions are modular units designed for easy and fast assembly. Made from the strongest 10 gauge steel, wire mesh partitions are essentially walls, walls that can be configured in whichever way best suits your needs. Choose from standard layouts or go completely custom. Cogan wire mesh partitions are available in corner, three-sided and fully self-enclosed installations. The wire mesh material allows for clear visibility, proper ventilation, is wear resistant and requires virtually no maintenance.

Also, with a variety of door and lock options, Cogan wire mesh partitions are even more customizable. Choose between padlock hasps, cylinder locks or panic bars. Door options include, swing doors, sliding doors, service wickets and Dutch doors. With accessories designed for numerous applications, Cogan wire mesh partitions are engineered to ensure that your property is protected 24/7. The security of your resources is important to the productivity of your business, so why skimp on when Cogan can supply you with everything you need to create a safer warehouse? Order a wire mesh partition system today and protect your valuables. Cogan – confidence comes with security.
